

ASSIGNMENT: Your fish is hungry, and needs to eat before returning to his starting point. He may eat his meal in any order you wish. After he has consumed all three of the little fishes, your fish will double in size. After he has sated himself, return him to the starting point facing to the right (nose at same point). Number the steps of each matrix transformations and describe each transformation to move him along his journey.